Description:

Other Worlds, the fourth volume in Jon Scieszka's Guys Read anthology series for tween boys, features ten thrilling new tales of science fiction and fantasy from some of the biggest names in children's literature. Prepare yourself for ten trips into the unknown, as ten of your favorite writers—Rick Riordan, who has written an all-new and exclusive Percy Jackson tale, Tom Angleberger of Origami Yoda fame, Newbery medalist Rebecca Stead, Shannon Hale, D. J. MacHale, Eric Nylund, Kenneth Oppel, Neal Shusterman, Shaun Tan, and none other than the late Ray Bradbury—spin tales of fantasy and science fiction the likes of which you have never imagined. Compiled by National Ambassador for Children's Literature (and Secret Ambassador for the Intergalactic Alliance) Jon Scieszka, Guys Read: Other Worlds is sure to boldly take you where no reader has gone before.

I've been a Sci-Fi fan ever since my sister gave me a copy of Foundation when I was about eleven. This is a collection of science fiction/fantasy stories that is truly top notch. Several of them are quite funny. There's the alien invasion that is foiled by the rules, for example. Some are pretty traditional, such as the one with the surprise twist at the end that involves a Scout and things falling from the sky. The book ends with a tribute to one of the greats, Ray Bradbury. The story, Frost and Fire, is one that I read as a teenager and have thought of from time to time ever since. I'd forgotten it was Bradbury, in fact. It is such a good story that I honestly can't say that the others are as good. But that's like saying that they're not as good as Macbeth. True, but it doesn't mean anything. These stories are excellent, speak right to the kid in me, and I'd recommend them to anyone who likes, or wants to try out, Science Fiction and Fantasy.
